Introducing the LogiCO2 -Scout

LogiCO2 is proud to announce the wireless, handheld LogiCO2 - Scout. LogiCO2 - Scout is a wireless CO2 sensor that fits easily in the palm of your hand. It's controlled via Bluetooth and a free smartphone app (both Android and iOS are supported) and helps safety personnel, firefighters and many others to, within seconds, receive information about the level of CO2 in a room, and warns if the amount is dangerous. This unit provides a previously unequalled mobility and flexibility and can help service personnel to quickly find leaks in a CO2 system, which otherwise could be both costly and dangerous to health.
